Thirty senior citizens learned a basic overview of My Plate, a nutritional guideline for all ages.

Late January, 135 students at Peabody Elementary learned effective hand washing. The following week, students practiced hand washing and learned about nutritional benefits of whole wheat, making their own loaf of bread in a bag.

Fifty-one 4-Her’s enhanced skills in oral communication, decision making and performance at county club day. Of 71 entries, 32 qualified for Regional 4-H Day in El Dorado.

Approximately 200 youth are currently enrolled in six community and/or project clubs.

Forty adults are community or project leaders in the county.

Producers learned of the economical impact of selecting for a smaller cow size.

Cattle prices are at unprecedented highs. Cattleman learned what these prices will trigger to producers and the impact this will have on future prices.

Producers are making difficult decisions maximizing revenue and risk management through the new farm bill.